Great interest is being taken in the historical program to be given in the Twenty-third Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, on May 21 and 22. The program shows the reign of the Spirit of Nature. There are to be eight episodes, the first portraying the Swamie Indians, aborigines of Brooklyn, in the savage regalia, gathered around a council fire listening to the medicine man.

Episode two shows the landing of Hendrik Hudson on the shores of Coney Island in 1609.

Episode three, which will be acted by Squadron C, under the direction of Major Charles I. de Revolse, depicts the Brimstone town in 1646, with the jolly Dutch burghers and their wives making a festive occasion of the granting of a charter to the town.

Episode four is told in 1775 and presents the romance of Melrose Hall and the Tory conspiracy in the historic Flatbush mansion, which aimed at the seizure of Gen. Washington.

Episode five will be the reenactment of the battle of Long Island by members of the Twenty-third Regiment under the command of Col. Frank N. Norton.

Episode six brings the pageant to the end with Henry Ward Beecher delivering the farewell address to the famous Flatbush Dwellers.

Episode seven, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Don C. Seitz, will revive the famous calico ball, which raised $10,000 for the relief of the Union wounded. It will also show the return of the Brooklyn Phalanx.

Episode eight will show the greater city of New York in 1898, showing Father Knickerbocker attended by his five daughters and announcing the day brought in the consolidation of the city. The postlude will take a glimpse into the future and will show the Spirit of Progress with her attendants, Commerce, Industry, Art, Science, Music, Law, Invention, Religion and Medicine.

Many special and novel features will be introduced at the last of the dances of the Automobile Club of America at the Hotel Hamilton.

rector of the church, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her brother, David Buffum, had Miss Marie Halsted of Morristown, N. J., as her maid of honor and Paul Broome acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Ashwell will live in the Washington Square section after their return from their wedding trip.

Southampton, L. I., is looking forward to an interesting summer season, and while most of the regular villa occupants will be there some of the places have been leased for the season. Mr. and Mrs. H. Mortimer Brooks, who deserted Star Harbor three years ago in favor of Southampton, have again leased Newbold Edgar's place in Main street, a fine Colonial structure, and Mrs. William P. Douglas, who for several summers has been in Europe, has leased Alvin W. Kreech's place in First Neck lane. In all probability Mr. and Mrs. James L. Breeze will occupy their place, The Orchards, which for the past two summers has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Valentine, and it is possible that the wedding of Miss Frances Breeze and Lawrence McKeever Miller may be celebrated there late in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Rogers will be in their new house, which has been in the process of construction for more than a year, and another of the new houses to be occupied this summer has been built by Mr. and Mrs. J. Copley Thaw. Mrs. W. Lowe Rice has again leased Tynne-Coed, the villa of the late Mrs. George R. Schieffelin on Lake Aramow, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Potter will be at the Schermerhorn East cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Sharp, who have been in Southampton each summer for some years, have decided to go elsewhere this year.

Among the newcomers will be Mr. and Mrs. J. Indey Blair, who have taken Wyndecote, the Robertson villa, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who, with Mrs. Henry A. Alexander, will be at the Foster home in Main street. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. De Lancey Keating will again be in the Herrick villa in Great Plain road, and Mr. and Mrs. Fairfax S. Landstreet have taken Elhu Root's villa in Ox Pasture road.

Barber, Mr. and Mrs. G. Crawford Clark, Mrs. George G. De Witt, Mrs. Chester Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sage, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Metcalfe Thomas, Mrs. Edward Van Ingen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Trevor, Col. Robert M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Page, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence McKeever, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Kewenochan, Mr. and Mrs. Orson D. Munna, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Archbold and Mr. and Mrs. J. Searle Barclay.

The dog show, comparatively new to Southampton, will be held on July 10 and the annual lawn tennis tournament will begin on August 16, lasting a week. The flower show will take place late in July.

Albert Eugene Gallatin, who is president of the Motor Car Touring Society, will entertain members of that organization and their wives at luncheon on May 29, which is the opening day of the race season at Belmont Park. The society will have their first run of the season on that day and will go to the Turf and Field Club, where luncheon will be served. Percy R. Payne 24 is vice-president of the society and Ormie Wilson, Jr., is the secretary.

The other members are Vincent Astor, Cortlandt Field Bishop, L. Gordon Hamersley, Henry Rogers Winthrop, Francis L. V. Hoppin, W. B. Segood, Philip Bush Hollister, Robert Golet, W. Wickham Hoffman, Oliver Iselin, McKim Hollins, Bayard C. Hopkin, Hermann Oelrichs, Newbold Morris, Marshall R. Kernochan, Francis Roche, A. D. B. Pratt, M. Taylor Payne, Jr., Thornton Wilson, Oden Miller, Malcolm D. Stone and Harold S. Vanderbilt. There is every reason to count on a large attendance of persons prominent in society at the races which will be held at Belmont Park from May 20 to June 8.

Sojourners to the Pacific coast are returning and all of them enthusiastic over the trip. Not a few of them have been through the Panama Canal and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor, who left New York about the middle of February, returned on Wednesday morning overland from San Francisco, and position in San Francisco, returning here the latter part of May. Mr. and Mrs. Chisolm expect to be in Ridgefield for the greater part of the summer.

Mrs. W. Forbes Morgan, Jr., is one of the daughters of Mrs. Valentine G. Hall of Tivoli, her sisters being Mrs. Stanley Mortimer and Mrs. David Gray, all women of beauty. Mrs. Morgan, who was Miss Edith Hall, generally passes the summer with her mother in Tivoli, N. Y.

Mrs. Levi P. Morton has loaned her house, at 908 Fifth avenue, for a talk on gardening on Thursday by Miss Zimmerman, who has cultivated gardens in Europe, for the benefit of the National Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild. Miss Zimmerman has spent her life in the study and making of gardens and is a noted authority on the subject. There will also be songs.
